Over 500,000 AMERICAN LIVES WERE NEEDLESSLY LOST TO COVID-19

AN OP-ED BY PETER NAVARRO AND DR. STEVEN HATFILL

In an Op-Ed published by the WASHINGTON TIMES, Peter Navarro and Dr. Steven Hatfill fire back at the report released by House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis, and illuminate the failure of the FDA, Steven Hahn, Janet Woodcock and Dr. Anthony Fauci to prevent the deaths of over a half a million Americans and countless more worldwide.

“The Democrat-controlled House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis has accused us of constantly pressuring then-FDA Commissioner Stephen Hahn and his agency to make the antiviral drug hydroxychloroquine (HCQ) available to out-patients for early treatment use...”

The preliminary science showed that HCQ offered a potent and safe therapeutic effect during the early phase of the disease. This finding is why we engaged so vigorously with Hahn and the FDA on behalf of the American people.”

Navarro and Hatfill support their conclusions with current scientific data:

“As of August 2022, there have been 354 studies of HCQ as a treatment for COVID involving 5,764 scientists and 482,120 patients in 51 countries. Meta-analysis across these studies demonstrates a resounding 57–81% improvement in mortality when given early treatment and a 41% reduced hospitalization...The meta-analysis indicates that if physicians had been allowed to freely prescribe HCQ off-label to out-patients within the first seven days of their symptoms, from 570,000 to 810,000, Americans would still be alive today.”
